

Press Release by Beethoven-Haus Bonn

Cancellation of all events and museum offers in the Beethoven-Haus Bonn with immediate effect

Due to the ongoing COVID 19 / coronavirus epidemic unfortunately all scheduled events, concerts, museum tours and education activities cannot take place for the time being. This cancellation applies until further notice.

“We deeply regret these developments and hope that we will soon be able to reopen our newly launched museum and music chamber hall in the anniversary year”, says Director Malte Boecker. “We are also working at full speed on a virtual museum-tour, for which we will shortly be announcing further information.”

The shop of the Beethoven-Haus still remains open. Tickets already purchased can be refunded after the cancelled event dates. Information about the procedure is available in the shop and promptly on the website of the Beethoven-Haus.

About the Beethoven-Haus Bonn

The Beethoven-Haus Bonn association, founded in 1889, is the worldwide leading Beethoven centre. It strives to preserve Beethoven's life, work and heritage. The Beethoven-Haus Bonn includes the world's most important Beethoven collection, the museum at Beethoven's birth place attracting over 100,000 visitors per year, a scientific research department dedicated to music with its own library and a publishing house as well as the Hermann J. Abs chamber music hall. Thanks to the engagement and support of 900 friends, patrons and members from more than 20 countries as well as the German government, the federal state of North Rhine-Westphalia, the Rhineland Regional Council and the city of Bonn, the association carries out various cultural tasks and initiatives of national and international importance. Since 2020 the violinist Daniel Hope serves as president. In 2016 the non-profit institution Beethoven Jubiläums GmbH was founded under the umbrella of the Beethoven-Haus Foundation to coordinate and promote Beethoven's 250th anniversary in 2020.
